

My stay at CSUN, USA

What was it like to study at California State University, Northridge in Los Angeles

It was exciting to experience another culture like the US, and the university area was very nice. My English skills have also improved a lot.

But be aware that the level of the universities is low when you study in the US, so you are better off staying at ITU if you want to learn the most.

During my stay, I was also a part of the CSUN incubator, which gave me a lot regarding developing my skills in relation to entrepreneurship. I also won $25.000 in a pitch competition against all California State Universities. So if you are into entrepreneurship and business, I can recommend joining the CSUN incubator.

What was your initial motivation for going abroad, and did your stay meet your expectations?

My initial expectations were to become better at English and learn from their entrepreneurial culture in the US. In that case, CSUN has to help me succeed in both expectations.

But as mentioned earlier, the university's educational level is very low, so if you have expectations of learning - don't go to the US.

Please describe how you expect studying abroad to contribute to your further studies?

My English skills have improved differently, and I have experienced firsthand how important it is to be responsible for your learning. Therefore I am very motivated to come back to ITU and be taught by the professors here at home.
