

1. Your evaluation

Your answers from the survey are locked up and inaccessible until after the exam, while the teachers have immediate access to the summary from the final evaluation.

2. Teachers' use of your evaluation

The teachers on the course talk about the input from you and your fellow students and decide which adjustments can be made next time the course is offered.

3. Subject Area Team discussion

Heads of Study Programme discuss the evaluation with student representatives in the Subject Area Teams, which handles programme-specific questions regarding your study.

4. Next time

Next time the course runs, the teachers take the evaluation outcome into account which can lead to changes.